

Complaints Management Policy

RATIONALE

A school culture that welcomes, encourages and initiates regular two way school-home liaison is one in which healthy problem solving processes can be established and sustained. Clearly defined and operational resolution processes facilitate parents and school personnel to focus on early resolutions to issues and concerns in order to foster and support children's academic progress, their physical development and social and emotional well being.

Employees of the Department of Education (the Department) are responsible for managing the resolution of enquiries, concerns, complaints and disputes lodged by students, parents, members of the community, employees of government and non government agencies and the Employees of the Department will make every effort to promptly resolve enquiries, concerns and complaints preferably at the local level in accordance with the principles of procedural fairness. The Executive Director, Professional Standards and Conduct is responsible for resolving complaints that cannot be resolved at a local level.

PROCEDURES

School-level resolution

Stage 1: DISCUSSION WITH STAFF MEMBER

Contact the class teacher or other relevant staff member to discuss your complaint. This is best done by making an appointment through the school office. The staff will work with you to resolve the problem.

Stage 2: REVIEW OR INVESTIGATION AT THE SCHOOL LEVEL

Contact the principal who will work with you and the staff member to resolve the problem. You may wish to formalise your complaint. To do this, you may write to the principal who will acknowledge the complaint with a written reply as soon as possible, even if a resolution is not available at this stage.

The principal will consider the issue and identify what action is to be taken and by when, and will clarify the process if a formal complaint is to proceed. The principal may seek the support of the Manager, Operations or other relevant district, or central office staff.

This action and timeline will be confirmed with you in writing. You should be aware that when a complaint is made in writing about the performance of an individual staff member, that staff member will receive documentation of the substance of the complaint.

District-level resolution

Stage 3: DISTRICT RESOLUTION

If resolution is not reached at the school level or, if the principal is the subject of your complaint, contact the Manager, Operations at your District Education Office for assistance in resolving the issue. This will involve an independent review of the situation and may include mediation.

The Managers, Operations can be contacted through your District Education Office. Numbers are listed in the telephone directory under the Department of Education and Training.

RESOLUTION PROCEDURES

Step 1: Get a good grasp of the problem.

Before you visit the school to discuss a problem or concern it pays to do a lot of thinking. Work out what it is that is really bothering you. Be as specific and objective as you can in describing the problem. At this stage, try not to focus too much on solutions.

Step 2: Arrange an interview with the class teacher.

Your problems and concerns deserve more than a few hurried words before the bell goes, so make an appointment for a time which suits both you and the classroom teacher. Aim for a time when you know you will be relatively free of time constraints and when you won't have a pre-schooler in tow.

Step 3: Discuss what is bothering you.

You are meeting with your child's teacher because you have identified a problem which can best be solved through his/her active involvement. The teacher's cooperation will be most readily available when your facts are correct, your manner is at least civil, and you show your willingness to be part of the solution.

Step 4: Follow through on agreed actions.

Ensure any actions that were agreed to are adhered to form parties, home and school, arrange a follow up meeting to assess the progress being made in resolving your concerns

HOW THE COMPLAINT WILL BE HANDLED

Complaints will be handled promptly, confidentially and in accordance with procedural fairness.

Persons who are the subject of a complaint, who make a complaint or provide information in the course of an investigation into a complaint shall not be subject to prejudice, intimidation, and harassment or be subject to any detriment because of their involvement.

Where disciplinary processes are commenced against an employee as a consequence of a complaint being received complainants will be informed whether the allegation was substantiated or not substantiated. Complainants are not informed of the nature of any disciplinary action taken against an employee in respect to disciplinary matters due to confidentiality requirements.

Appropriate confidentiality is to be observed in any discussion of complaints. This means that at the workplace these matters are to remain confidential between the employee and his or her line manager and any other parties who have a legitimate interest in the process.

Guideline

Such parties may include support persons, unions or professional associations and more senior line managers.

LODGING A COMPLAINT

A person is able to complain verbally or in writing to a principal, director or line manager or, in writing to the Director General. If a verbal complaint is complex or very serious the complainant may be required to restate the complaint in writing or sign a written summary prepared by the principal, director or line manager.

A written complaint which contains personal abuse, inflammatory statements or material that is clearly intended to intimidate will not be addressed and the complainant will be informed accordingly.

Similarly, a verbal complaint that contains personal abuse, inflammatory statements or comments of a threatening nature may be terminated at the discretion of the staff member after firstly warning complainants of that intention.

The Director General will only consider written complaints. The Director General must reject a complaint about an incident which occurred more than 12 months before the complaint is made unless in the Director General's opinion the person who made the complaint has shown good reason for the delay. A person making a written complaint must provide his or her name, address and details of the complaint.

WITHDRAWAL OF A COMPLAINT

A person who has made a complaint is able to withdraw the complaint at any time. A written complaint should preferably, be withdrawn in writing. However, a signed and dated notation on the complaint by an employee that it has been withdrawn by the complainant will suffice. A verbal complaint can be withdrawn verbally and a notation made to that effect. The officer who received the complaint must give notice in writing to any parties affected by the complaint that it has been withdrawn. Complaints that warrant investigation must be pursued even though the complaint has been withdrawn.
